

Question 2: What distinguishes system fonts from custom fonts?

System fonts are fonts that are already downloaded onto your computer, as they are already installed along with your operating system. The only problem with system fonts is the style, as they all are too simple and plain. Custom fonts on the other hand, are really stylish and fun. The problem with custom fonts is needing to put the font file in the same directory as your code.